(b) No, Sir. The NEERI studied all the environment issues including ecological study, in depth, over a period of two years, by collecting primary data including seasonal variations in the region. Changes in microbiological character as well as oxygen depletion during the dredging are not expected to occur as per the Environmental Management Plan (EMP) prepared for the project. While implementing the project, marine environment quality on physical, chemical and bacteriological parameters is being monitored continuously. In addition, a Monitoring Committee to assess the environmental impact issues of the project has also been constituted under the Chairmanship of Dr. S. Kannaiyan, Chairman, National Bio-diversity Authority, Chennai.

(c) No, Sir.
